Under CHES, Applicants will not receive a certificate but will receive a statement of their holding of Shares. If you are broker sponsored, ASTC will send you a CHES statement.

The CHES statement will set out the number of Shares issued under this Prospectus, provide details of your holder identification number, the participant identification number of the sponsor and the terms and conditions applicable to the Shares.

If you are registered on the Issuer Sponsored subregister, your statement will be dispatched by Advanced Share Registry Services Ltd and will contain the number of Shares issued to you under this Prospectus and your security holder reference number.

A CHES statement or Issuer Sponsored statement will routinely be sent to Shareholders at the end of any calendar month during which the balance of their Shareholding changes. Shareholders may request a statement at any other time, however, a charge may be made for additional statements.

1.9 Residents outside Australia

This Prospectus, and the accompanying Application Form, do not, and are not intended to, constitute an offer of Shares in any place or jurisdiction in which, or to any person to whom, it would not be lawful to make such an offer or to issue this Prospectus or the Shares. The distribution of this Prospectus in jurisdictions outside Australia may be restricted by law and persons who come into possession of this Prospectus should seek advice on and observe any such restrictions. Any failure to comply with such restrictions may constitute a violation of applicable securities laws.

1.10 Risk factors

An investment in Shares should be regarded as speculative. In addition to the general risks applicable to all investments in listed securities, there are specific risks associated with an investment in the Company which are set out in Section 2.

1.11 Taxation implications

The Directors do not consider it appropriate to give Shareholders advice regarding the taxation consequences of subscribing for Shares under this Prospectus.

The Company, its advisers and its officers do not accept any responsibility or liability for any such taxation consequences to Shareholders. As a result, Shareholders should consult their professional tax adviser in connection with subscribing for Shares under this Prospectus.

1.12 Major activities and financial information

A summary of the major activities and financial information relating to the Company for the financial year ended 31 December 2016 is in the Annual Report which was lodged with ASX on 19 April 2017 and is available at www.asx.com.au. The Company's continuous disclosure notices (i.e. ASX announcements) since 19 April 2017 are listed in Section 4.3.

Copies of these documents are available free of charge from the Company. Directors strongly recommend that Shareholders review these and all other announcements prior to deciding whether or not to participate in the Offer.

1.13 Enquiries concerning Prospectus

Enquiries relating to this Prospectus should be directed to the Company Secretary by telephone on +61 (0)8 6500 3270.

1.14 Privacy

The Company collects information about each Applicant provided on an Application Form for the purposes of processing the Application and, if the Application is successful, to administer the Applicant's security holding in the Company.

By submitting an Application Form, each Applicant agrees that the Company may use the information provided by an Applicant on the Application Form for the purposes set out in this privacy disclosure statement and may disclose it for those purposes to the share registry, the Company's related bodies corporate, agents, contractors and third-party service providers, including mailing houses and professional advisers, and to ASX and regulatory authorities.

If you do not provide the information required on the Application Form, the Company may not be able to accept or process your Application. An Applicant has an entitlement to gain access to the information that the Company holds about that person subject to certain exemptions under law. A fee may be charged for access. Access requests must be made in writing to the Company's registered office.

2. Risk Factors

Activities in the Company and its controlled entities, as in any business, are subject to risks, which may impact on the Company's future performance. The Company and its controlled entities have implemented appropriate strategies, actions, systems and safeguards for known risks, however, some are outside its control.

The Directors consider that the following summary, which is not exhaustive, represents some of the major risk factors which Shareholders need to be aware of in evaluating the Company's business and risks of increasing your investment in the Company. Shareholders should carefully consider the following factors in addition to the other information presented in this Prospectus.

The principal risks include, but are not limited to, the following:

2.1 Specific Risks associated with the Company

(a) Commodity price volatility risk

It is anticipated that any future revenues of the Company, other than sales of assets, will be derived from the sale of oil and/or natural gas. The demand for, and price of, oil and natural gas is dependent on a variety of factors beyond the control of the Company, including supply levels of the product, the level of consumer product demand, weather conditions, the price and availability of alternative fuels, actions taken by governments and international cartels, and global economic and political developments.

The market price of hydrocarbon products is volatile and outside the control of the Company. Oil and gas prices have fluctuated widely in recent years. If the price of hydrocarbons should drop significantly and remain depressed, the economic prospects of the projects which the Company has an interest in could be significantly reduced or rendered uneconomic. There is no assurance that, even if significant quantities of hydrocarbon products are discovered, a profitable market may exist for their sale.

The marketability of hydrocarbons is also affected by numerous other factors beyond the control of the Company, including government regulations relating to royalties, allowable production and importing and exporting of oil and gas and petroleum products, the effect of which cannot be accurately predicted. Restrictions on the Company's ability to market production from projects that the Company has an interest in may have a material adverse effect on the Company's overall financial performance.

(b) Permit grant and maintenance risk

The Company's exploration activities are dependent upon the grant, or as the case may be, the maintenance of appropriate licences, concessions, leases, permits and regulatory consents. The grant or maintenance of licences and obtaining renewals often depends on the Company being successful in obtaining the required regulatory approvals for its proposed activities.

There can be no assurances that the Company will be successful in securing all or any of the additional acreage that it intends to apply for with the other Montney Project joint venturers as part of the stage 1 farm-in in relation to the project, or in obtaining renewals of existing acreage in the future.

The lease, licences or permits might also contain conditions relating to operations including, but not limited to, environmental management issues, occupational health and safety, operating procedures and plant and equipment design specifications. Such conditions or regulations might be subject to change from time to time and might impact the cost base and hence profitability of a particular project.

The Montney Project joint venture's drilling licences require the holder to meet certain drilling targets to retain the licences and/or convert them into production leases. The Company (as operator of the Montney Project joint venture) may be prevented from achieving these drilling targets for unforeseen reasons outside the control of the Company. If this were to occur, the applicable licences may expire before the Company is able to renew or convert them into production leases, which may have a material adverse effect on the Company's overall financial performance.

(c) Exploration and development risks

Oil and gas exploration involves significant risks, including the risk that drilling will result in dry holes or not result in commercially feasible oil or natural gas productions. Selecting a drilling location is influenced by the interpretation of geological, geophysical and seismic data, which is a subjective science and has varying degrees of success. Other factors, including land ownership and regulatory rules, may impact the Company's decisions with respect to well locations. Further, no known technologies provide conclusive evidence prior to drilling a well that oil or natural gas is present or may be produced economically. New wells drilled may not be productive, or may not recover all or any portion of the Company's investment in such wells. Decisions to purchase, explore, develop or otherwise exploit prospects or properties will depend, in part, on the evaluation of production data, engineering studies, and geological and geophysical analyses, the results of which are typically inconclusive or subject to varying interpretations. The costs of drilling, completing, equipping and operating wells is typically uncertain before drilling commences.

Montney Project joint venture The petroleum licences that the Company owns or has the rights to exploit are at various stages of exploration. There can be no assurance that exploration of these licences, or any other licences that may be acquired in the future, will result in the discovery of an economic oil and gas deposit. Even if an apparently viable deposit is identified, there is no guarantee that it can be profitably exploited.

The value of the Company's Securities will likely be affected by the results obtained by other companies conducting exploration activities within close proximity of its projects. If the results obtained by other companies are positive then this will likely increase the value of the Company's Securities. Conversely, if the results obtained by other companies are negative then this will likely decrease the value of the Company's Securities.

Further, the Montney Project is an unconventional project that relies on horizontal well and fracture stimulation technologies to make hydrocarbons flow. There are complexities and additional risks with the development of these types of project which do not exist with conventional oil and gas plays. These complexities can affect the flow rates achieved from operations and the costs of conducting such operations and thereby effect the viability or profitability of such operations.

(d) Drilling Risks

Oil and gas drilling activities are subject to numerous risks, many of which are beyond the Company's control. The Company's drilling operations may be curtailed, delayed or cancelled due to a number of factors including weather conditions, mechanical difficulties, shortage or delays in the availability or delivery of rigs and/or other equipment and compliance with governmental requirements. Hazards incident to the exploration and development of oil and gas properties such as unusual or unexpected formations, pressures or other factors are inherent in drilling and operating wells and may be encountered by the Company.

Completion of a well does not assure a profit on the investment or recovery of drilling, completion and operating costs. While drilling may yield some hydrocarbons there can be no guarantee that the discovery will be sufficiently productive to justify commercial development or cover operating costs.

(e) Hydraulic fracturing

Public debate exists regarding the potential sub surface and surface impact of hydraulic fracturing, including concern about the impacts of hydraulic fracturing on drinking water. In addition, there are many regulatory requirements to be adhered to. Additionally, hydraulic fracturing requires large volumes of water (the availability and regulation of which may change over time) and there are costs associated with water disposal that may be required should the Company produce water in its wells. As more impacts of hydraulic fracturing are fully understood, it may be subject to additional regulations or restrictions from governmental authorities, resulting in increased compliance costs. Any modification to the current requirements may adversely impact the value of the Company's assets and future financial performance.

(f) Commercialisation of Discoveries

It may not always be possible for the Company to participate in the exploitation of successful discoveries made in any areas in which the Company has an interest. Such exploitation will involve the need to obtain the necessary licences or clearances from the relevant authorities, which may require conditions to be satisfied and/or the exercise of discretions by such authorities. It may or may not be possible for such conditions to be satisfied. Further the decision to proceed to further exploitation may require the participation of other companies whose interests and objectives may not be the same as the Company. Such further work may require the Company to meet or commit to financing obligations for which it may not have planned.

(g) Exchange rate fluctuation risk

The Company's oil and gas projects are currently located in Canada and in SADR. As a result, the majority of cash flows, expenses, capital expenditure and commitments will be denominated in Canadian dollars and various currencies used in SADR. To the extent the Company may become involved in petroleum production, the revenue derived through the sale of commodities will expose the potential income of the Company to commodity price and exchange rate risks through the translation or repatriation of foreign currencies to Australian Dollars.

(h) Environmental risks

The Company's operations will be subject to environmental laws and regulations, including but not limited to, those governing the management of waste, the protection of water and air quality, the discharge of materials into the environment, and the preservation of natural resources which may impact and influence the Company's operations. The government and other authorities that administer and enforce environmental laws and regulations determine these requirements. The cost and complexity of complying with the applicable environmental laws and regulations may prevent the Company from being able to develop potentially economically viable petroleum reserves.

If the Company fails to comply with environmental laws and regulations regarding the discharge of oil, gas, or other materials into the air, soil or water it may be subject to liabilities to the government and third parties, including civil and criminal penalties. The Company may also become liable for environmental damage caused by any previous owners of licence areas the Company will have an interest in.

Further, the Company may require approval from the relevant authorities before it can undertake activities that are likely to impact the environment, including production activities. There is no assurance that such approvals will be obtained. The Company is unable to predict the effect of additional environmental laws and regulations, which may be adopted in the future, including whether any such laws or regulations would materially increase the Company's cost of doing business or affect its operations in any area.

The Company is unable to predict the effect of any new environmental laws, regulations or stricter enforcement policies, once implemented, including whether any such laws or regulations would increase the Company's cost of doing business or affect its operations in any area.

(i) SADR non-sovereign status

Under the Assurance Agreements, the SADR PSCs are effective from and commence upon recognition of the sovereign status of the SADR by the United Nations, and the SADR Government passes necessary tax and petroleum titles legislation. The SADR is the entity created by the indigenous people of Western Sahara following a unilateral declaration of independence in 1976. At present the territory of Western Sahara is regarded by the UN as being a Non-Self Governing Territory awaiting a process of decolonisation. Western Sahara was formerly a Spanish colony. Following Spain's withdrawal, Morocco invaded in 1975 and has since occupied the western part the territory. In the same year, the International Court of Justice found that there were no ties of territorial sovereignty between Morocco and Western Sahara. No country in the world has ever recognised Morocco's claims over Western Sahara.

A 16-year armed conflict between Morocco and the Frente POLISARIO (the armed resistance of the indigenous Saharawi people of Western Sahara) ensued until the UN brokered a ceasefire in 1990. The terms of the ceasefire included an agreement to establish a UN Mission for the Referendum in Western Sahara (MINURSO) to: (i) organize and supervise a self-determination referendum to allow the Saharawi people to choose between independence and integration with Morocco; and (ii) to monitor the ceasefire.

However, the UN has since been unable to make the necessary arrangements for the holding of a referendum. It has been mandated by the UN Security Council to bring the parties together to negotiate a solution to the conflict "which will provide for the self-determination of the people of Western Sahara." Unfortunately little progress has been made with Morocco maintaining an intransigent position proposing only autonomy for the territory whilst the Government of the SADR advocates a referendum with all options of self-determination.

There are currently overlapping claims to oil and gas exploration rights in both the onshore and offshore areas of occupied territories; that is, competing licence areas which have been issued by the SADR and Moroccan governments. Calima currently has competing claims with parties issued oil and gas exploration rights by the Moroccan government.

The UN has issued advice that "if further exploration and exploitation activities were to proceed in disregard to the interests and wishes of the people of Western Sahara, they would be in violation of the principles of international law applicable to mineral resource activities in Non-Self Governing Territories".

Calima will continue to monitor progress towards a political solution regarding the sovereign status of SADR. Until such time as there is a resolution of the political situation regarding sovereignty, Calima's interest in the SADR PSCs should be regarded as highly speculative.

(j) Potential acquisitions

As part of its business strategy, the Company may make acquisitions of, or significant investments in, companies or assets. Any such transactions will be accompanied by risks commonly encountered in making such acquisitions.

There are a number of uncertainties with the acquisition of interests in properties including, the amount of recoverable reserves, development and operating costs and potential environmental and other liabilities. Even with careful due diligence, it may be impossible to ascertain certain environmental or structural problems such as pipeline corrosion or hazardous spills. This risk could have a negative effect on future operations and the Company's financial position.

(k) Hydrocarbon reserve estimates

Hydrocarbon reserve estimates are expressions of judgment based on knowledge, experience, interpretation and industry practice. Estimates that were valid when made may change significantly when new information becomes available.

In addition, reserve estimates are necessarily imprecise and depend to some extent on interpretations, which may prove inaccurate. Should the Company encounter oil and/or gas deposits or formations different from those predicted by past drilling, sampling and similar examinations, then reserve estimates may have to be adjusted and production plans may have to be altered in a way which could adversely affect the Company's operations. Where possible, the Company will seek to have any such estimates verified or produced by an independent party with sufficient expertise in their chosen field.

(l) Additional requirements for capital

Exploration expenditure estimates are based on certain assumptions with respect to the method and timing of exploration. By their nature, these estimates and assumptions are subject to significant uncertainties and accordingly, the actual costs may materially differ from these estimates. The funds raised under the Placement, together with the Company's existing cash reserves, are considered sufficient to meet the Company's immediate objectives. Additional funding may be required in the event costs exceed the Company's estimates and to effectively implement its business and operational plans in the future or to take advantage of opportunities for acquisition, joint ventures or other business opportunities, and to meet any unanticipated liabilities or expenses which the Company may incur. The Company will also require additional funding if it elects to continue to proceed with stages two or three under the Farm-In Agreement.

There can be no assurance that additional finance will be available when needed. Any additional equity financing may be dilutive to the Company's existing Shareholders and any debt financing, if available, may be on terms that are not favourable to the Company or involve restrictive covenants, which limit the Company's operations and business strategy. Failure to obtain sufficient financing for the Company's activities and future projects may result in delay and/or indefinite postponement of the Company's activities and potential development programs. In particular, if the Company is unable to raise additional funds to proceed with Stage two or three of the Farm-in Agreement then it will be removed as operator of the Montney Project (although it will be entitled to retain its stage one working interest of 20%).

(m) Reliance on key personnel

The Company's future depends, in part, on its ability to attract and retain key personnel. It may not be able to hire and retain such personnel at compensation levels consistent with its existing compensation and salary structure. Its future also depends on the continued contributions of its executive management team and other key management and technical personnel, the loss of whose services would be difficult to replace. In addition, the inability to continue to attract appropriately qualified personnel could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business.

(n) JV partners and contractors

Oil and gas ventures are typically operated under joint venture arrangements, such as the Company's Farm-in Agreement in relation to the Montney Project. These arrangements include provisions that often require certain decisions relating to the projects to be passed with unanimous or majority approval of all participants. Where a venture partner does not act in the best commercial interest of the project, it could have a material adverse effect on the interests of the Company.

The Company is unable to predict the risk of:

- (i) financial failure, non-compliance with obligations or default by a participant in any venture to which the Company is, or may become, a party; or
- (ii) insolvency or other managerial failure by any of the contractors used by the Company in any of its activities; or
- (iii) insolvency or other managerial failure by any of the other service providers used by the Company for any activity,
- (iv) all of which could have a material adverse effect on the operations and financial performance of the Company.

(o) Regulation – General

There are a number of Canadian federal and state policies and regulations that, if changed, may have a material impact on the financial and operational performance of the Company.

The risks relating to these policies and regulations to the Company's business include:

- (i) changes to the nature and extent of the regulation or licensing systems could result in a change in industry structure, which could adversely impact the growth opportunities for and profitability of the Company's business;
- (ii) changes to federal or state taxes or royalty structure, such as a change to the Royalty Rebate Schemes;
- (iii) changes to the state government legislation about drilling, fracking, or environmental approvals.

In addition, the Company may become subject to other regulations in Canada or SADR, if Calima's Assurance Agreements convert into PSCs, which could increase its regulatory and compliance obligations. Any new regulatory restrictions or changes in government attitudes or policies in relation to any or all of the existing regulatory areas may adversely impact on the financial performance and position, and future prospects of the Company.

(p) Regulation– Exploration and Production

Oil and natural gas exploration, production and related operations are subject to extensive rules and regulations promulgated by federal, state and local agencies. Failure to comply with such rules and regulations can result in substantial penalties. The regulatory burden on the oil and gas industry increases the cost of doing business and affects profitability. Because such rules and regulations are frequently amended or reinterpreted, the Company is unable to predict the future cost or impact of complying with such laws.

Permits are required in some of the areas in which the Company operates for drilling operations, drilling bonds and the filing of reports concerning operations and other requirements are imposed relating to the exploration and production of oil and gas. The Company will be required to comply with various federal and state regulations regarding plugging and abandonment of oil and natural gas wells, which will impose a substantial rehabilitation obligation on the Company, which may have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial performance.

(q) Insurance

Exploration, development and production operations on oil and gas properties involve a number of risks and hazards which are beyond the control of the Company including unexpected or unusual geological conditions, environmental hazards, technical and equipment failures, extended interruptions due to inclement or hazardous weather or other physical conditions, unavailability of drilling equipment, unexpected shortages of key personnel, labour, consumables or parts and equipment, fire, explosions and other incidents. It is not always possible to insure against all such risks or the Company may decide not to insure against certain risks because of high premiums or other reasons. Although the Company will have insurance in place at levels considered appropriate for its operations and in accordance with industry practice, in certain circumstances the Company's insurance may not cover, or be adequate to cover, the consequence of such events which could reduce or eliminate any future profitability and result in increasing costs and a decline in the value of the Company's Shares.

(r) Claims by Indigenous Inhabitants

The oil and gas assets of the Company may be subject to land claims by First Nations or indigenous people. Should this occur and be successful, the Company's ability to conduct exploration and/or development and production activities may be affected, which may have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial performance and the price at which its Securities trade.

The legal nature of aboriginal land claims is a matter of considerable complexity. The impact of any such claim on the Company's ownership interest in the properties leased or owned by the Company cannot be predicted with any degree of certainty and no assurance can be given that a broad recognition of aboriginal rights in the area in which the properties leased or purchased by the Corporation are located, by way of a negotiated settlement or judicial pronouncement, would not have an adverse effect on the Company's activities. Even in the absence of such recognition, the Company may at some point be required to negotiate with First Nations or other indigenous people in order to facilitate exploration and development work on the properties leased or owned by the Company.

Some of the Montney JV lands overlap Crown lands within the area claimed by the Treaty 8 First Nations. The Dene Tha' First Nation and Prophet River First Nation have advised that such areas are used for practising their treaty rights. Practically speaking, this means that pre-engagement with those First Nations (letter of introduction outlining development plans) should occur prior to developing the lands to ensure that any concerns they may have are taken into account.

Other than as noted above, the Company is not currently aware of any land claims or potential claims by indigenous people in respect of its proposed exploration activities that could affect licence tenure or any future production operations.

(s) Competition

The Company operates in a competitive and dynamic market. The Company will compete with other companies, including major oil and gas companies. Some of these companies have greater financial and other resources than the Company and, as a result, may be in a better position to compete for future business opportunities and respond to the introduction of new technologies or technological advancements relating to drilling or other relevant operations (common in the oil and gas industry).

Many of the Company's competitors not only explore for and produce oil and gas, but also carry out refining operations and market petroleum and other products on a worldwide basis. There can be no assurance that the Company will compete effectively with these companies and other industry participants and thereby be successful in acquiring additional oil and gas properties on reasonable commercial terms.

(t) Substitution of oil and gas products as energy sources

There are a number of alternative energy sources to energy sources from oil and gas products. These include renewable energy (ie wind, solar or hydroelectric), nuclear energy, geothermal and biomass. If the costs and commercial prices of such alternative energy sources fall or there is a significant shift in consumer sentiment towards such sources, this may have a significant effect upon the Company's overall financial performance and ability to operate in the oil and gas industry.

(u) Liquidity risk

A number of the Company's Shares are classified by ASX as restricted securities and/or are subject to voluntary escrow and will be required to be held in escrow for up to 24 months following the Company's reinstatement to trading on ASX in August 2017. In addition, certain existing Shareholders have agreed to voluntary escrow over the Shares they hold for a period of 12 months from reinstatement. During the period in which these Shares are escrowed, trading in Shares may be less liquid which may impact on the ability of a Shareholder to dispose of his or her Shares in a timely manner.

2.2 General Risks

(a) Economic and government risks

The future viability of the Company is also dependent on a number of other factors affecting performance of all industries and not just the oil and gas industry including, but not limited to, the following:

- (i) general economic conditions in jurisdictions in which the Company operates;
- (ii) changes in government policies, taxation and other laws in jurisdictions in which the Company operates;
- (iii) the interpretation of taxation laws by the relevant taxation authority differing from the Company's interpretation;
- (iv) the strength of the equity and share markets in Australia and throughout the world, and in particular investor sentiment towards the oil and gas industry;
- (v) movement in, or outlook on, exchange rates, interest rates and inflation rates in jurisdictions in which the Company operates; and
- (vi) natural disasters, industrial disputes, social upheaval or war in jurisdictions in which the Company operates.

(b) Financial markets risks

Share market conditions may affect the value of the Company's quoted securities regardless of the Company's operating performance. Share market conditions may be affected by many factors including, but not limited to, the following:

- (i) general economic outlook;
- (ii) interest rates and inflation rates;
- (iii) currency fluctuations;

- (iv) commodity price fluctuations;
- (v) changes in investor sentiment toward particular market sectors;
- (vi) the demand for, and supply of, capital; and
- (vii) terrorism or other hostilities.

The market price of securities can fall as well as rise and may be subject to varied and unpredictable influences on the market for equities in general, and oil and gas securities in particular. Neither the Company, nor the directors warrant the future performance of the Company or any return on an investment in the Company.

(c) Risk of litigation, claims and disputes

The Company is exposed to the risk of actual or threatened litigation or legal disputes in the form of claims by joint venture partners, personal injury and property damage claims, environmental and indemnity claims, employee claims and other litigation and disputes. There is a risk that such litigation, claims and disputes could materially and adversely affect the Company's operating and financial performance due to the cost of defending and/or settling such claims, and could affect the Company's reputation.

(d) Investment risk

An investment in the Securities to be issued pursuant to this Prospectus should be considered speculative. They carry no guarantee as to payment of dividends, return of capital or the market value of the Securities. The prices at which an investor may be able to trade the Securities may be above or below the price paid for the Securities. While the Directors commend the Offers, prospective investors must make their own assessment of the likely risks and determine whether an investment in the Company is appropriate to their own circumstances.

2.3 Investment Speculative

The above list of risk factors ought not to be taken as exhaustive of the risks faced by the Company or by investors in the Company. The above factors, and others not specifically referred to above, may in the future materially affect the financial performance of the Company and the value of the Shares offered under this Prospectus. Therefore, the Shares to be issued pursuant to this Prospectus carry no guarantee with respect to the payment of dividends, returns of capital or the market value of those Shares. Potential investors should consider that the investment in the Company is speculative and should consult their professional adviser before deciding whether to apply for Shares pursuant to this Prospectus.

4. Additional information

4.1 Rights attaching to Shares

A summary of the rights attaching to Shares in the Company is set out below. This summary is qualified by the full terms of the Constitution (a full copy of the Constitution will be provided by the Company on request free of charge) and does not purport to be exhaustive or to constitute a definitive statement of the rights and liabilities of Shareholders. These rights and liabilities can involve complex questions of law arising from an interaction of the Constitution with statutory and common law requirements. For a Shareholder to obtain a definitive assessment of the rights and liabilities which attach to Shares in specific circumstances, the Shareholder should seek legal advice.

(a) General meeting and notices

Each member is entitled to receive notice of, and to attend and vote at, general meetings of the Company and to receive all notices, accounts and other documents required to be sent to members under the Constitution, the Corporations Act or the Listing Rules.

(b) Voting rights

Subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to any class or classes of shares, at a general meeting of the Company, every holder of fully paid ordinary shares present in person or by an attorney; representative or proxy has one vote on a show of hands (unless a member has appointed 2 proxies) and one vote per share on a poll.

A person who holds a share which is not fully paid is entitled, on a poll, to a fraction of a vote equal to the proportion which the amount paid bears to the total issue price of the share.

Where there are 2 or more joint holders of a share and more than one of them is present at a meeting and tenders a vote in respect of the share, the Company will count only the vote cast by the member whose name appears first in the Company's register of members.

(c) Issues of further Shares

The Directors may, on behalf of the Company, issue, grant options over or otherwise dispose of unissued shares to any person on the terms, with the rights, and at the times that the Directors decide. However, the Directors must act in accordance with the restrictions imposed by the Constitution, Listing Rules, the Corporations Act and any rights for the time being attached to the shares in any special class of those shares.

(d) Variation of Rights

Unless otherwise provided by the Constitution or by the terms of issue of a class of shares, the rights attached to the shares in any class may be varied or cancelled only with the written consent of the holders of at least three-quarters of the issued shares of the affected class, or by special resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the issued shares of the affected class.

(e) Transfer of Shares

Subject to the Constitution, the Corporations Act and Listing Rules, Shares are freely transferable.

The Shares may be transferred by a proper transfer effected in accordance with the ASX Settlement Operating Rules, by any other method of transferring or dealing with Shares introduced by ASX and as otherwise permitted by the Corporations Act or by a written instrument of transfer in any usual form or in any other form approved by either the Directors or ASX that is permitted by the Corporations Act.

The Directors may decline to register a transfer of Shares (other than a proper transfer in accordance with the ASX Settlement Operating Rules) where permitted to do so under the Listing Rules. If the Directors decline to register a transfer, the Company must, within 5 business days after the transfer is delivered to the Company, give the party lodging the transfer written notice of the refusal and the reason for the refusal. The Directors must decline to register a transfer of Shares when required by law, by the Listing Rules or by the ASX Settlement Operating Rules.

(f) Partly paid Shares

The Directors may, subject to compliance with the Constitution, the Corporations Act and Listing Rules, issue partly paid shares upon which there are outstanding amounts payable. These shares will have limited rights to vote and to receive dividends.

(g) Dividends

The Directors may from time to time determine dividends to be distributed to members according to their rights and interests. The Directors may fix the time for distribution and the methods of distribution. Subject to the terms of issue of shares, the Company may pay a dividend on one class of shares to the exclusion of another class.

Each share carries the right to participate in the dividend in the same proportion that the amount for the time being paid on the share (excluding any amount paid in advance of calls) bears to the total issue price of the share.

(h) Winding up

Subject to the rights of holders of shares with special rights in a winding-up, if the Company is wound up, members will be entitled to participate in any surplus assets of the Company in proportion to the percentage of the capital paid-up or credited as paid up on the shares when the winding up begins.

(i) Dividend reinvestment and Share plans

Subject to the requirements in the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules, the Directors may implement and maintain dividend reinvestment plans (under which any member may elect that dividends payable by the Company be reinvested by way of subscription for fully paid shares in the Company) and any other share plans (under which any member may elect to forego any dividends that may be payable on all or some of the shares held by that member and to receive instead some other entitlement, including the issue of fully paid shares).

(j) Directors

The Constitution states that the minimum number of Directors is three and the maximum number is nine.

(k) Powers of the Board

Except as otherwise required by the Corporations Act, any other law, the Listing Rules or the Constitution, the Directors have the power to manage the business of the Company and may exercise every right, power or capacity of the Company.

(l) Share buy backs

Subject to the provisions of the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules, the Company may buy back shares in itself on the terms and at times determined by the Directors.

(m) Unmarketable parcels

The Company's constitution permits the Board to sell the Shares held by a Shareholder if they comprise less than a marketable parcel within the meaning of ASX Business Rules. The procedure may only be invoked once in any 12 month period and requires the Company to give the Shareholder notice of the intended sale.

If a Shareholder does not want his Shares sold, he may notify the Company accordingly.

(n) Capitalisation of profits

The Company may capitalise profits. Subject to the Constitution and the terms of the issue of shares, members are entitled to participate in a capital distribution in the same proportions in which they are entitled to participate in dividends.

(o) Capital reduction

Subject to the Corporations Act and Listing Rules, the Company may reduce its share capital.

(p) Preference Shares

The Company may issue preference shares, including preference shares that are liable to be redeemed. The rights attaching to preference shares are those set out in the Constitution unless other rights have been approved by special resolution of the Company's members

4.2 Company is a disclosing entity

The Company is a disclosing entity under the Corporations Act. It is subject to regular reporting and disclosure obligations under both the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules. These obligations require the Company to notify ASX of information about specific events and matters as they arise for the purpose of ASX making the information available to the securities market conducted by ASX. In particular, the Company has an obligation under the Listing Rules (subject to certain limited exceptions), to notify ASX once it is, or becomes aware of information concerning the Company which a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of the Shares.

The Company is also required to prepare and lodge with ASIC yearly and half-yearly financial statements accompanied by a Directors' statement and report, and an audit review or report.

Copies of documents lodged with the ASIC in relation to the Company may be obtained from, or inspected at, an ASIC office (see Section 4.3 below).
